"MADE-TO-ORDER" COAL MINE EXPLOSION

Government's Experimental Plant Is Wrecked By Design

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—The experimental coal mine of the United States Bureau of Mines at Bruceton, Pa., just outside of this city, was wrecked to-night by an explosion of coal dust fired by black powder touched off as an experiment. Mine engineers and coal operators who went to Bruceton to witness the test said they saw one of the most remarkable sights in their lives.

While no persons were injured several had narrow escapes. The village of Wallace, two miles from Bruceton felt the explosion. Windows were broken and the electric light plant was put out of commission.

The explosion while "made-to-order" was a huge surprise. The force of the upheaval was a revelation. Hundreds of cement bags weighing forty pounds each were hurled from the mine mouth with the force of a bullet and landed three to four hundred feet away.

The roof was blown off the fan house while a mine car at one of the openings to the mine was sent flying across a creek and embedded itself in a hillside. Flames shot forty feet from the mine's mouth and large pieces of concrete were thrown great distances away.

Chronic rheumatism contracts the muscles, distorts the joints and undermines the strength. A powerful penetrating and relieving remedy will be found in Ballard's Snow Liniment. It restores strength and suppleness to the aching limbs. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co. Incorporated, Drug Department.

His friends and The Bee wish him a quick recovery.

TENNESSEE BREAKS RECORD

Last Year's Coal Production Greatest in History of State

The total production of coal in Tennessee in 1910 was 7,121,390 short tons, valued at $7,925,350, an increase of 12 per cent over the production of 1909, when the output amounted to 6,358,045 short tons, valued at $6,920,554.

Tennessee's coal production in 1910 was the largest in the history of the State, and although in the districts the ability to absorb the increased output was somewhat overtaxed and prices suffered accordingly, the record for the State as a whole was a decided improvement over 1909. In both 1909 and 1910, however, prices were much lower than in any of the three preceding years. The highest prices attained for Tennessee coal in recent years were recorded in 1907, when the average for the State was $1.25 a short ton. In 1908 the average price dropped to $1.15 and in 1909 to $1.09. The returns for 1910 show a slight advance, to $1.11.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers.

The Toll of Death

One of the most beautiful passages in the English language, that well-known letter of Abraham Lincoln to Mrs. Bixby, condoling with her on the sacrifice of her five sons in the fight to preserve the Union, is recalled by a recent fatality in Pennsylvania. Industry exacts sacrifices, but the mothers are not offered such exquisite consolation.

From the "Railroad Employee" we learn that flagman James Mealing, of the Jersey Central, residing at Mauch Chunk, was killed in the switchyard. Such an accident is common enough, but he was the last of six sons, all killed in railroad work. His aged mother is prostrated, nor is there anyone to offer her the tribute to Mrs. Bixby in "the solemn pride that must be hers to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Is the sacrifice any less real or pathetic? Work a better thing than war, and the transportation industry of the country must be kept up even with his frightful toll of death. Doubtless, we waste lives which could be saved. Our prodigality in that respect horrifies the student of industrial problems. Are we fatalists, and are the workers themselves incapable of applying lesson after lesson?

We can only repeat that all the legislation enforcing the use of safety appliances, passed into law in the past ten years, is absolutely worthless, so far as its chief object is concerned, without the co-operation of the individual. Our corporation managers should search their hearts deeply so see if they themselves have left anything undone. They owe at least this poor consolation to Mrs. Mealing. —Wall Street Journal.

The man who whispers down a well
About the things he has to sell
Will never reap a crop of dollars
Like he who climbs a tree and
"hollers."

Creation

THERE IS A REGION within every one of us, a deep lake of peace, out from which flows all that is excellent in our work and striving. Up from it, well, if we are music-makers, the harmonies and the binding together of sweet sounds. It is the home of poetry, of the long thoughts of the golden treasures of the arts. It is almost the only thing in life that does not lie within the reach of the will. We can quicken our activities, hasten our speed, enlarge our muscles, and increase our knowledge, but the creative mood will not succumb to force or yet to gentle wooing. We can wrestle with the key board, scribble out the brittle sentences, finger the brush or the chisel, for a month of days—and out from all the worried moods and writhing not one curve of beauty or any single loveliness of sound will come. Then on haphazard day, when rapid light is on the face of the waters, or on some evening full of desire, all that has been a vagueness and a struggle of a sudden takes on shape and clothes itself in melody. On the wings of its flight we seem to climb out of space and out of time. In effectual strokes the dream comes true. Rhythm enters where lately there was discord. Then the rapture fades, and we are returned again to levels of the uninspired.

Sometimes a blessing.
Misfortune does not always inflict injury.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for curing women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Drought Developing New Resources

We never know what we can do until we try, and there is nothing like adversity for showing the way. There has seldom been a better illustration of this truth than that arising from the crop shortage due to drought, in countries so far apart as the central United States and central India. In the former case the reduced yield of corn, as indicated by midsummer drought, set farmers and agricultural authorities to work to find compensating resources. They planted late summer crops for stock feeding purposes West of the Mississippi, until some millions of acres were ready to profit by rains which came too late to restore the last estate of the corn crop.

But this was not all. Hitherto, corn fodder was generally allowed to go to waste in the field. But now it has become one of the western farmers' chief feeding assets. The Breeders' Gazette says of this as a substitute for hay:

"The average hay crop of Illinois is around 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons. The ten million acres of corn would yield 10,000,000 to 13,000,000 tons of husked fodder or stover. Each ton of it cut and shocked would take the place of half a ton of timothy hay in feeding, making the entire crop of fodder which could be saved in the state equal to three or four times the hay crop."

What is true of Illinois is true of most other corn states. Seven surplus corn states could produce 110,000,000 tons of shredded fodder, the farm price of which is not below $5 a ton, making a new crop asset of $550,000,000, or more than the farm value of the entire wheat crop.

Drought in India taught similar lessons. The London Times' India correspondent mentions the increased resources of the cultivators in planting "catch" crops, and in their willingness to utilize government co-operation in efforts to relieve the situation. The lesson from both areas is that under scientific guidance self-supporting enterprise has not adverse conditions by making them minister to the needs of man from hitherto unused resources which may yearly hereafter be added to the products of the soil.—Wall Street Journal.

Mendelssohn Quartet

The Mendelssohn Quartet Company is something new in male quartets. While appearing in modern evening dress they will retain the spirit of the historic minstrel entertainer. The historic minstrel, it will be recalled, was refined and artistic in temperament, a combination of poet and musician who spent his days strolling from village to village, singing his songs and reciting his verses to all who would hear, from the lords and ladies of court and castle to the humble peasant folks and children of the street, his great genius lying in his ability to adapt his song and verse to fit any occasion, or any mood of his listeners. In addition to their vocal work they will perform with violins and cello.

The Great Thing.

The great thing in life is not so much where do we stand, but what are we standing for—why don't we go ahead?

Wanted to Be Exact.

"Say, Lew, said a long haired farmer looking into the door of the barber shop, 'how soon kin yer cut my hair?' 'In about half an hour,' replied the barber. 'All right,' he said and departed. In a few minutes the door opened again. 'Say, Lew,' asked the farmer, 'sum time er stander?'—Success.

High Recommendations.

"Why did you leave your last place?" asked Mrs. Hiram Daly of the would-be cook. "I haven't left me last place," replied the applicant. "I haven't any last place to leave. I've been workin' for meself for the past year, an' I can recommend meself to yer very highly."—Boston Transcript.

Uses of the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

Cupid Keeps Busy.

There are about 3,000 weddings every 24 hours, taking the entire world into consideration.

Doctors Said He Would Die.

A Friend's Advice Saves Life.

I wish to speak of the wonderful cure that I have received from your noted Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder cure. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back and sides. I could not breathe without difficulty and was nearly wild with the desire to urinate. Was compelled to do so every ten minutes with passage of pure blood with the urine. I tried all the different doctors from far and near, but they said it was no use to doctor as I would die anyway. I was at the end of my rope and was so miserable with pain and the thought that I must die that words cannot tell how I felt. One day a friend told me of the wonderful help she had received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. She gave me one of your pamphlets which I read and determined to try Swamp-Root. After taking half a bottle I felt better. Have now taken ten bottles and am well as I ever was, thanks to Swamp-Root. I wish to tell all suffering people that have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best medicine on the market.

All persons doubting this statement can write to me and I will answer them directly.

Yours very truly,
CLYDE F. CAMERER,

Rosalie, Wash.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of July, 1909.

VERNE TOWNE, Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleaned and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

Every Dollar of an Ad Reader's Money is Above Par

Frequently Its Buying Power is Actually Doubled

¶ Your dollars vary in value as they vary in purchasing power. The man or woman who studies advertisements is able, frequently, to make one dollar do the usual work of two. ¶ And the experienced reader of advertisements will always make a dollar command a premium—make it buy more than a dollar's worth, as figured on "ruling prices" of things. ¶ How much "above par" are the dollars in your pocket worth? It will depend on how closely you study the buying opportunities outlined in the store ads

TO PREVENT CHINESE FLOODS

American Red Cross Engineer Now In China Studying the Problem

The present flood in the Yangtze River, in China, with the frightful loss of life and property which it has caused, makes especially timely the recent action of the American Red Cross in sending to China an expert engineer for the purpose of studying the best means of preventing the floods which repeatedly have caused such a great devastation in that country. This engineer, Mr. C. D. Jameson, reached China in July, and has been given a cordial welcome and all necessary assistance by the Chinese government. As Mr. Jameson formerly lived sixteen years in China his familiarity with customs and conditions gives him a thorough preparation for his present important mission.

By the terms of its federal charter the Red Cross is charged with the duty of trying to prevent as well as relieve distress caused by disasters. In this instance the salary and traveling expenses of Mr. Jameson are borne by the Red Cross, while the Chinese government provides for all other expenses. Most of the great Chinese disasters which have so frequently shocked ed the world have been in the form of floods, or famines resulting from the destruction of crops of floods. The terrible famine for the relief of whose sufferers the world was called upon to give last winter was caused in this way. It would seem that here is one of the most striking opportunities ever afforded for demonstrating the value of preventive as compared to relief measures.

Take Your Common Colds Seriously

Common colds, severe and frequent lay the foundation of chronic disease conditions of the nose and throat and may develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption, for all coughs and colds in children and in grown person, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It checks and relieves. Use no substitute. The genuine in a yellow package always. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated Drug Department.

What They're For.

Why do you have those glass cases with the axe, hammer, crowbar and so forth on these cars? asked a traveler on the railroad going to New York.

Oh, those are put there in case any one wants a window open, replied the facetious man.—Youth's Companion.

Another Problem

Jericho's Walls Didn't Fall. Reports have been sent home by Prof. Sellin, who is in charge of one of the two German expeditions at work in the Holy Land, concerning the results of excavations at Jericho better known to the Christian world as Jericho. Notwithstanding the recorded falling down of its walls, the triple belt of masonry round Jericho according to Prof. Sellin, is excellently preserved, and inside are still the remains of the dwelling houses of the city some of them to a couple of yards or more. The houses are small, those of the Canaanite princes being distinguished from those of the ordinary inhabitants only by the greater number of the rooms. Many utensils have been found, of stone in the time of Canaanites, and of bronze since the year 1,000 B. C.

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. Sold by all dealers.

3 DAYS' AVIATION MEETING

To be Held in Hopkinsville Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 2, 3 and 4

By the Hopkinsville Aviation Club, the Only Aviation Club South of the Ohio River

Chas. O. Prowse, the Hopkinsville lad, who by his persistent perseverance and genius has made the Biplane the conqueror of the air.

A Southern boy who has demonstrated to the talented of the East what Southern brains can do. A prophet who has honor in his own country.

He returns to the people who believe in him, to prove that he has succeeded after these months of toil and disappointments.

He will demonstrate without doubt that man has conquered the air with a Biplane of his own make.

JIMMIE WARD, THE DARE DEVIL

The same Jimmie Ward who gave New York a thrill.

A man of national reputation. In this day of modern inventions one hardly knows what to expect next.

Hopkinsville, the liveliest town of its size South of the Ohio River, has men who are alive to meet the issues of the day, who keep up with the procession; has arranged for this meet, and without doubt will have the greatest crowd on these days that has ever been within her gates.

These flights will take place at the Aviation Field and there will be three flights each day promptly between one and three o'clock. Biplanes and Aeroplanes will soar in the air with the grace of great vultures.

Never perhaps again will such an opportunity present itself to you to see heavier than air machines float in the air.

Since you were a child you have wondered if this great feat would ever be accomplished.

Come and See What the Genius of Man Has Done

Deep Mourning.

The manager of the theater racked his brain in vain. "We must do something," he repeated, bitterly. "People will expect us to do something to show respect to the proprietor, now that he is dead." "Shall we close for the night of the funeral?" suggested the assistant stage manager. "With this business? You're a fool, liddle, a fool. No; put the chorus in black stockings." And it was even so.

Triumph of Scientist.

A French scientist has combined the moving picture camera and X-ray apparatus into an instrument by which the processes of internal organs may be studied, and has given it the name of biocentograph.
